

Connect Workday

Leverage Workday Data Across the Enterprise

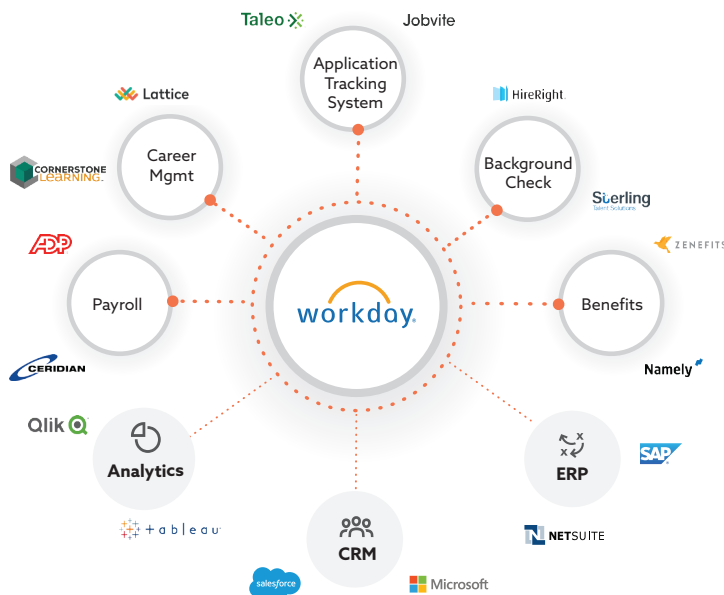

Provide a Complete View

Workday offers powerful HR, finance, and analytics capabilities that can help companies increase employee engagement and make better financial decisions. But to maximize the value of your Workday investment, you need to seamlessly connect a number of data sources to get a complete view of your organization, so you can make faster and more accurate decisions.

Jitterbit's API Integration Platform and Workday connector provide an intuitive way to quickly connect Workday's suite of applications to any in-house, on-premise, or cloud-based system. Utilizing Jitterbit's API and integration design, mapping, and management capabilities, companies can easily build and automate workflows across a variety of critical functions, such as talent management, payroll, benefits, financial planning, and application tracking systems.

Combine applications such as HR, Finance, CRM, analytics, and ERP to provide a complete, data-driven view across all your applications.
