

Transformations

Jitterbit Harmony Design Studio

Transformations

Overview

Data can be transformed between a source and target system using any of the systems and data formats that Jitterbit supports. Depending on the source and target system selected, the transformation wizard takes the user through a set of steps to define the information required to perform the transformation. Data structures representing both source and target systems are presented in graphical tree structures.

Pages in This Topic

- Basic Steps to Create a Data Transformation
- Conditional Mapping
- Data Normalization in Jitterbit
- Design Studio Transformation Toolbars
- Dynamic XML Schema Generation
- Hierarchical Entity Path Notation Explained
- Mapping Flat to Hierarchical Output
- Mapping Flat to Hierarchical Structures
- Mapping Hierarchical to Flat Structures
- Multiple Mapping
- Regular Expressions in Jitterbit
- REST Transformation - Sugar CRM - Request Session Token
- Source Loop Node
- Stream and Batch Transformations
- Text to XML Transformation Wizard
- Transformation Jitterbit Variables
- Transformation Mapping
- Transformation Request and Response Data Element Display
- Transformation Testing
- Transforming a Database to a Database
- Transforming a Database to a Text File
- Transforming a Database to a Web Service Request
- Transforming a Database to XML
- Transforming a Text File to a Database
- Transforming a Text File to a Text File
- Transforming a Text File to a Web Service Request
- Transforming a Text File to XML

- Transforming a Web Service Response to a Database
- Transforming a Web Service Response to an XML
- Transforming LDAP to LDAP
- Transforming XML to a Database
- Transforming XML to a Text File
- Transforming XML to a Web Service Request
- Transforming XML to Database Wizard
- Transforming XML to XML
- Using LDAP Sources and Targets
- XML as a Source and Target

Search in This Topic

Last updated: May 14, 2018